The Mossad, Intertel And Howard Hughes

In 1967, Resorts International, well known for its leadership in casino gambling was incorporated. Its casino legalization campaign started in the summer of 1977. By the autumn of 1978, it was in full bloom. According to research conducted by The Spotlight newspaper (September 25, 1978), there were four principal investors engaged in the incorporation of Resorts International. They were: (1) the late Meyer Lansky, the Zionist Boss of organized crime. (2) David Rockefeller. (3) The Investors Overseas Service (IOS) acting through Bernie Cornfeld. (4) William Mellon Hitchcock of the International Narcotics Syndicate.

Since Lansky and Rockefeller are well known, let's take a look at Bernie Cornfeld and the IOS. (We have no other info on Hitchcock other than that he is the heir to America's largest private family fortune,) Cornfeld began his career as a paid organizer for the Socialist Party, and for B'nai B'rith -- the exclusive Jewish branch of Freemasonry.

According to New Solidarity of August 4 1983: "Sponsored by Geneva-connected financial interests, Cornfeld built an illegal international pyramiding operation used as a laundry for billions in organized-crime proceeds. Cornfeld's outfit, Investors Overseas Service (IOS), was the cash cow for the Permindex assassination bureau, by providing most of the funds for board member Tibor Rosenbaum's International Credit Bank of Geneva."

It is believed by some that Permindex -- the drug-related assassination network headed by the Jewish Maltese Knight, Major Louis Mortimer Bloomfield -- made the decision to assassinate President John F. Kennedy. Permindex also carried out 30 attempts on the life of Charles DeGaulle.

Cornfeld was also associated with the late Vicki Morgan. Famous for the scandal of a few years back, Morgan was identified by U.S. Intelligence to be a high-level espionage messenger. She was mistress not only of Cornfeld, but also of the late Alfred Bloomingdale, a member of the elite Bohemian Grove. The Grove is considered to be the West Coast command center for the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry. It practices rites which can best be described as being Druidic. The Grove shares a cross-membership with the P2 Lodge. New Solidarity has also linked Vicki Morgan to the Church of Satan headed by Anton Lavey.

Cornfeld is also a member of the Brotherhood of Eternal Love -- "an occult LSD network founded by...Timothy Leary" and "exposed as a cover for KGB espionage." (New Solidarity -August 4, 1983)

Two other gentlemen aided Cornfeld and the IOS in the chartering of Resorts International. According to The Spotlight (September 25, 1978), they were: "...Dr. Tibor Rosenbaum, the international mega-financier, who was responsible for the banking operation of IOS centered, naturally in Switzerland; and...Baron Edmond de Rothschild, at the time involved in a partnership with Rosenbaum extending to several overt and covert ventures. In fact Rosenbaum and Rothschild, scion of the famous finance dynasty, were partners in the creation of the MOSSAD much as in the chartering of Resorts International."

The MOSSAD (Central Institute for Information and Espionage) is the intelligence network of Zionist Israel. It uses more assassins than the CIA and the KGB put together. Finances for MOSSAD's overseas operations were provided by Baron Rothschild, Dr. Rosenbaum and Meyer Lansky. According to The Spotlight: "Lansky made Rosenbaum's International Credit Bank the central clearing-house for uncounted millions in 'hot-money transfers.' Through the discreet Bank on the Rue du Conseil (in Geneva --Editir) flowed the funds of the U.S. gambling syndicate --vast sums skimmed from casinos and other illicit ventures throughout the Bahama's and the U.S. From these funds the MOSSAD obtained instant credit to cover a variety of necessities -- illegal arms, forged documents, the purchase of information or political contacts -- as well as operational cash as needed."

In 1970, Resorts International organized its own intelligence network called International Intelligence, Inc. -- Intertel for short. When The Spotlight asked a U.S. Intelligence official if MOSSAD was the power behind Intertel, the official replied: "Well, I don't know for sure, but my guess is, not very FAR behind."

Intertel quickly recruited into its ranks officials from the FBI, the CIA and Scotland Yard. The goal of Intertel was to provide security not only for Resorts International, but for other clients as well. The first big client to come along was the erratic billionaire Howard Hughes.

Hughes believed that a relationship with Intertel would benefit him. For years he had wanted to get close to the CIA. The New York Times, March 20, 1975 reported: "A former high aide to Howard R. Hughes has said that the reclusive industrialist had been looking for years for a Central Intelligence Agency connection that would expand his influence with government before the agency signed his company to try to recover a sunken Soviet submarine."

"Robert A. Maheu, once the manager of the Hughes operations in Nevada, made the statement last year in testifying in his successful defamation suit against the Hughes interests. Documents introduced at the trial showed that Mr. Hughes had a considerable interest in manipulating Federal agencies and politicians.

"Mr. Maheu said that, as far back as 1961, Mr. Hughes showed a desire to become involved somehow with the CIA. And in 1968, Mr. Maheu testified, Mr. Hughes asked him to 'try to work out some kind of an arrangement with the CIA whereby either he or the Hughes Tool Company would become a front.' "

Hughes must have jumped with delight to become affiliated with an organization such as Intertel. Harper's Magazine for December 1974 had the following to say about Intertel and about Hughes' relationship to Intertel: "The best example of a private apparatus...is probably International Intelligence, Inc. (Intertel), a mysterious firm whose activities have impinged on the affairs of Howard Hughes, Robert Maheu, Robert Vesco, the Plumbers, ITT, Bebe Rebozo, and even the Mafia... its very existence seems to have cast a shadow of paranoia over Richard Nixon -- and at least indirectly, contributed to the former President's political reversal. (EDITOR: Keep in mind that Intertel is a front for the MOSSAD.)"

"In 1971 Jack Caulfield, a White House operative, was so concerned about Intertel -- which he described as 'an intelligence gun for hire' -- that he recommended a counter-intelligence campaign to neutralize the firm. Caulfield alleged that one Intertel agent was expert at 'bag jobs' and warned that the firm 'continued to have unauthorized access to sensitive government files in many areas.' ...Intertel is a network of paladin agents whose collective expertise includes specialties from within the fields of law enforcement, intelligence gathering, economics, data processing, accounting, systems engineering, and the behavioral sciences. The firm has its headquarters on the second floor of the Hill Building in Washington, a few steps up Seventeenth Street from the White House....it should be noted that Intertel's director of intelligence operations is Edward M. Mullin, formerly of the FBI and the CIA...The firm is nothing less than the legal incorporation of an old-boy network whose ganglia reach into virtually every nerve cell of the federal investigative/intelligence community. There is nothing 'wrong' in that. Civil servants are not chattels of the state, and if they decide to sell their skills in the marketplace, so what? But some who are skeptical of the motives of, for instance, Howard Hughes and ITT may become concerned upon learning of the special talents and knowledge that their assets command. To this, Tom McKeon says, 'We don't act as a shield or umbrella for anybody. We won't let ourselves be used that way.'

"And one would like to believe him. But the fact is that the firm is for hire; it does what it's paid to do, and its clients are secret....

"The potentials for abuse are many, and suspicion of the private apparatus is only natural. What makes Intertel of particular interest, however, is the notoriety of some of its known clients and the widely diverging views about its motives.

"Some instances: Caulfield was convinced that Intertel was engaged in 'black' operations. Intertel denies it does this and, in fact, says that it doesn't accept politicians as clients or engage in any political work at all...Yet another view of Intertel is held by Robert Maheu, former confidant of Howard Hughes. After Intertel TOOK CHARGE (emphasis added) of the billionaire's casinos following Hughes's flight to the Bahama's, Maheu thought that his boss had been kidnapped. An attempt to 'rescue' Hughes was thwarted by Bahamian officials accompanied by Intertel agents... Hughes is now living in the Bahama's... What's certain about the move is that Intertel was deeply involved in his expatriation.

"On Thanksgiving eve 1970, Hughes was scooped from his headquarters atop the Desert Inn and put aboard a plane bound for Paradise Island. Acting on orders from top executives of the Hughes Tool Company, Intertel took control of Hughes's casinos... Maheu charged that his boss was the victim of a 'kidnapping,' and marshaled 'evidence' to back up the allegation. A physician who had seen Hughes a few weeks earlier claimed that the tycoon was too ill to have been safely moved, that he suffered from a heart condition, pneumonia, and anemia. He was, the doctor said, receiving blood transfusions and weighed less than 100 pounds. That Hughes should go to the Bahamas seemed -- in view of the secret study, his illness, and his disaffection for blacks -- eccentric in the extreme.

"Tom McKeon, Intertel's general counsel, is still sensitive about the Hughes operation... McKeon said, 'The Hughes organization got in touch with us in the summer of 1970. A few months later, in August or so, Peloquin went to Los Angeles to discuss how the move should be made... Well, we developed a plan, all right: it was about this thick. (His thumb and forefinger measured out a space that would hold Gravity's Rainbow.) While we were still preparing for D-Day ...the Hughes organization telephoned and said, in effect, 'Get every man you've got out here right away. We're moving tonight. So there went the plan. I can understand why Maheu thought Mr. Hughes had been kidnapped, it was all so sudden.'

"The assignment to plan Hughes's exodus from Las Vegas was a large and sensitive one; that it should be entrusted to a firm which was only a few months old seemed extraordinary to many. A few, however, thought this was no accident, and speculated that perhaps Intertel was formed expressly for the purposes of 'the Thanksgiving coup,' McKeon denies that...

"By the end of Intertel's first year, the firm was enmeshed in a tense, if sometimes farcical, game of spy-versus-counterspy. While Intertel was investigating Maheu, and vice versa, White House spy Jack Caulfield was investigating Intertel, convinced that the firm was a private CIA working in behalf of the Kennedy interests. What led Caulfield to that conclusion isn't hard to guess. In 1968, less than a month after Sen. Robert Kennedy was slain, Hughes ordered Larry O'Brien and the 'four or five key men in the Kennedy camp.' Maheu eventually succeeded, and O'Brien's firm was retained by Hughes for the sum of $15,000... After the Thanksgiving coup of 1970, Hughes's relationship with O'Brien ended, and the public relations account was transferred to Robert R. Mullen & Company -- a firm with strong links to the Republican Party and the CIA...

"While Caulfield and Maheu were tracking Intertel, Intertel and the IRS were investigating Maheu. (Intertel was also looking into Jack Anderson's affairs on behalf of ITT, and into Clifford Irving's affairs on behalf of Hughes.) At about the same time, E. Howard Hunt, an employee of both Mullen and the White House (who may or may not have also been an undercover agent for the CIA) was planning to burglarize the offices of a Las Vegas publisher in order to purloin a sheaf of secret Hughes memos." (Harpers Magazine, December, 1974, pages 54.56 and 66.)

In his book "Hoax" Clifford Irving says "it was not long before the Hughes account became Intertel's biggest." From all of the above we have learned that the casinos of Howard Hughes were under the control of Intertel. We also know that the MOSSAD -- Israel's terroristic secret service -- is closely linked to Intertel and to Resorts International. In his thirst for power, Hughes, the reclusive billionaire, got more than he bargained for in his alliance with Intertel. Indeed, the alliance may have hastened his death, which according to former CIA agent Peter Renzo took place on April 18, 1971 from a heroin overdose. (See "Beyond The Gemstone Files" by Peter Renzo, page 52.) No announcement of his death was made till April 5, 1976. And some believe that a double (named Rector) was used from 1971 to 1976!

The Hidden Hand Behind The Division Of Ireland

By Arnold Leese

(Editor: Arnold Leese, along with Nesta Webster and Inquire Within, was one of the top British writers on secret societies and conspiracy. This article is reprinted from his paper "The Fascist" for October, 1937.)

That friction between Catholic and Protestant in Ireland was a natural growth, we do not for one moment dispute. We do, however, believe that the evidence shows that the climax which arrived at a time when Britain had her back to the wall and was fighting for her life, and which resulted ultimately in the present impossible position of the Irish Free State, was chiefly arranged and worked by Jews using Irishmen as pawns in the game. The Irish Free State is now in the hands of the enemies of the Empire.

The Jew Karl Marx in his message to the Internationale at Geneva in 1870 pointed out that Ireland was the point to strike at first in attacking Britain for the purposes of revolution, and he said that in Ireland they were ready to begin their work. As far back as 1865, the Fenians had joined the International Association of Working Men under Karl Marx.

An important agent in working up the trouble (and let us remember that the Jew Nordau's speech at the Zionist Conference in 1903 showed that the Jews knew that the Great War was coming about) was the journalist William O'Brien, who started both the United Irish League and the All-for-Ireland League, and was imprisoned nine times for political offences. He was married in 1890 to a rich Jewess called Raffalovitch.

It was Viscount Bryce, Chief Secretary in Ireland, 1905-6, who broke up the Irish political Secret Service which had been established since the days of Pitt; under his administration, also, the Arms Act was allowed to lapse which required the licensing of people possessing arms. Was it an accident that Bryce's wife had both a brother and sister married to members of the Kessel family in Manchester?

As everyone knows, rebellion actually broke out in Dublin on Easter Monday, 1916, three days before this, Sir Roger Casement had been captured landing on the coast of Kerry from a German submarine; it was he who negotiated the alliance between Germany and the Irish Republicans, and his activities were controlled by the Jew Albert Ballin and by the Professor Kuno Meyer (whose race we do not know). Ballin was, of course, the Kaiser's adviser and head of the Hamburg-Amerika steamship line controlled by Warburg's Bank, Hamburg, the owner of which was the brother of the Jew Paul Warburg of Kuhn Loeb & Co., New York, the firm which financed the Bolshevik revolution in Russia. The business of the Germans was to supply armaments through Ballin, and Sir Roger Casement. In America, the bureau for German-Irish intrigues was a private office of Wolf von Igel, an official of the German Embassy in New York; Igel is a common Jew name. (EDITOR: The black magic adept, Aleister Crowley, was also involved in these intrigues.)

The finance of rebellion was organized by the Zionist Jew, Robert Briscoe, now (1937) a member of the Dail. This Jew became DeValera's treasurer and obtained the necessary money resources from Kuhn Loeb & Co. When self government had been gained, he obtained funds for the civil war.

What about DeValera himself? He was born in New York in 1882, son of Vivian deValera and an Irish mother named Coll. He came to Ireland at the age of seven. He denies Jewish ancestry and states that his father was Spanish. Well, anyone who knows the history of Spain and the proportion of Jews in the population of New York, will, in view of DeValera's personal appearance, take that statement with a pinch of salt, and we ourselves believe that Doar Hayom, a Hebrew newspaper of Jerusalem was right when it said (May 9, 1932) that DeValera is descended from Spanish Jews. Remember also that in 1933 DeValera promised the Jews to use his influence at Geneva to have the Palestine immigration quota for Jews extended; hardly an Irish interest?

Erskine Childers is the next individual who calls for attention. He was for months, possibly years, the constant associate of Michael Collins, who was organizer of the murder-gangs and head of the Irish Republican Army. It was Childers who trained Michael Collins and educated him for revolution. Childers had been more intimately connected with the perfection of the I.R.A. than anyone else; huge sums had passed through his hands for revolutionary purposes, and he had so many powerful connections in England and in the U.S.A. that his wife thought him invulnerable. And who was this Erskine Childers? A direct descendant of one of the worst Jews who ever infested and ruled over the finances of England, the Jew Gideon!

Another descendant of Gideon was the rebel leader R.C. Barton, imprisoned for sedition. He was Childers' cousin. These two Jewish people were among the select few invited by Lloyd George to the miserable truckling Conference at Downing Street in 1921, where the conspirators, rebels or/and murderers were invited to tea... and visited on until the spring of 1922.

At the time of the rebellion, Lord Wimborne was Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. Birrell was his Chief Secretary, and the Assistant Secretary was the Jew Sir M. Nathan.

A Royal Commission made an enquiry in 1916 into the circumstances attending the rebellion and published a report (White Paper Cmd. 8279). As a result of it, all of the officials mentioned above resigned. Birrell was made scapegoat for the deplorable exhibition of slackness and sluggishness which the administration had made, and which left lawlessness unchecked; whilst the Jew Nathan was described as "having carried out with the utmost loyalty the policy of the Government" but the Commission considered that "he did not sufficiently impress upon the Chief Secretary, during the latter's prolonged absence from Dublin, the necessity for more active measures."

Now this Nathan was, as Under-Secretary, the "bottle-neck" through which passed all advices and instructions in the matter of maintaining order, and there is no doubt that the officers responsible for meeting rebel attacks were severely hampered by his (shall we say?) weakness. For instance, proposals for the arrest of rebel leaders, for the strengthening of garrisons, for the stopping of armed processions and the search of houses, always met with unaccountable delay before permission could be obtained to act. Thus, Lord Wimborne had urged the arrest of 100 rebel leaders on Easter Sunday, and had written Birrell to "ginger up Nathan." When it was proposed to raid Liberty Hall, the H.Q. of rebellion, on Easter Monday, at noon, Nathan disagreed to the suggestion on the ground of illegality, as also to the proposal of the Lieutenant-Governor to strengthen the Castle Guard. The Castle was attacked at 12:30!

Colonel H.V. Cowan, giving evidence before the Commission, said he accompanied Nathan to Viceregal Lodge on Easter Sunday, and Nathan told him the Sinn Feiners had had 250 lbs. of Gelignite taken to Liberty Hall and that the Lieutenant-Governor wished to raid the place; and that it was principally on Nathan's representation that, before the leaders could be arrested, the matter was delayed on the grounds that authority would first have to be obtained from the Government!

Major Owen Lewis, another officer giving evidence, said that three months before the rebellion he had seen Nathan on behalf of General Friend, and had advised the suppression of certain newspapers and the arrest of rebel leaders. Nothing was done.

When, finally, the Home Rule Act's went through, they precluded Parliament from abrogating or prejudicially affecting any privilege or exemption of Grand Lodge, or any Lodge Society recognized by Grand Lodge. Masonry remained above the law, being Jewish. We hear that the new Constitution of the Irish Free State will alter this.

From 1920 to 1922, the Chief Secretary for Ireland was Sir Hamar Greenwood whose sister had married the half-Jewish politician L.S. Amery. Thus, Jewish influence has been maintained in the principal key-positions on both sides, and the ultimate effect has been that Britain has not only temporarily lost the greater part of Ireland, but has at her back an enemy ready to stab when the time is ripe.

Report From The Readers

FROM DETROIT, MICHIGAN

Do you have any information on the mystic who started the "Nation of Islam" and then disappeared. His name was Fard Muhammad and he was not a black man. He started the "Nation of Islam" and put Elijah Muhammad over it, then he disappeared as strangely as he came. He was either a white man or an Arab. There is so much mystery surrounding this man that no one seems to know when he came to America or when he left, what country he came from and where he went after he left America. (If he left) No one seems to really know his real name. He used about 5 or 6 different names, but Fard Muhammad is the name known to most people. This was the man that created the "Whiteman is the Devil" concept and everything else that the Nation of Islam believes. If you have any information or an idea where I can maybe get some, please let me know.

FROM GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA

I am enclosing a page from the book "THE IMMORTAL LOVERS" by Frances Winar (published by Harper). It has some excerpts from letters from Robert Browning (the poet) to a VERY close friend of his by the name of Isa Blagden. These excerpts are rather interesting in that he talks of himself as a "brother snake" and his "snake-metamorphosis". I have underlined these paragraphs. Browning was thought to be a Jew as his father was a student of the Talmud and also defended the Jews at every opportunity. They did, however, present themselves as Christians. Nobody seems to know exactly who this Isa Blagden really was; her past was quite obscure.

EXCERPTS FROM "THE IMMORTAL LOVERS"

"Isa Blagden never destroyed Browning's letters. They were found, carefully preserved after her death in 1873. It was another, a posthumous token of devotion from 'my nearly one, certainly best, woman friend,' as Browning called her in a letter written the year after he had left Florence. Then he went on to make an outwardly puzzling reference which had its origin in their intimate language: 'God bless you, we will be 'snakes' together yet if He pleases...' Again, in a subsequent letter, he said, 'The years are going, Isa, and in three years I may begin to hope for a realization of the snake-metamorphosis...Take care of yourself for better reasons than the sake of your brother-snake that is to be."

"In another of Browning's letters the reference is still more direct: 'Next time I may be three-parts 'the aged snake' and have houseroom for you...' Clearly theirs was the purest friendship protected against ambiguity by Browning's calling himself Isa's 'brother-snake.'

(EDITOR: The serpent has been used as an emblem by the Jewish people. It symbolizes the pantheistic god, i.e. the Universe. Cabalistic theology teaches mystical union with this serpent force. See CT #1 and #7 for thoughts on this matter.)

CONSPIRACY NOTES

(1) MAITREYA UPDATE. (From Benjamin Creme's "SHARE INTERNATIONAL, March 1985.) Question: What is the latest news about Maitreys's emergence? Answer (by Creme): To recap for new readers: in the summer and autumn of 1984, a free-lance South American journalist living in London gathered together a small group of journalists to meet regularly at a rendezvous point in the Asian community of London. In this way a purely symbolic 'search for Maitreya was initiated thereby expending the necessary energy to constitute an approach or invitation to him to emerge into the world's arena (without infringing humanity's free will). None of the journalists has been assigned by his agency or newspaper, but has attended from personal interest or curiosity only. This fact limits their influence or 'clout' in the task of mounting an international press conference in London at which Maitreya will appear for the first time. For this reason, Maitreya has so far withheld a contact with the journalists in the hope of one or two more influential people becoming involved. This now appears to be happening. Recently, the Lonson head of a British news agency has agreed to attend the rendezvous and a very influential American communications director has likewise expressed his readiness to investigate this story and, if validated, make it known. He also has the advantage of the Alice Bailey teachings, and the 'ear' of top journalists in America. We await his visit to London with interest and hope. In the meantime, I have been told that Maitreya intends to make His presence rather more obvious. He has already done so to the South American woman journalist who has co-ordinated the 'search' for Him. Dining with one other journalist in the Indian community one evening, and sitting with her back to the window of the restaurant, she suddenly felt that someone was watching her. Turning around, she saw looking at her a tall Asian figure, dressed in white from head to toe. She knew it was Maitreya, not only from His authority, dignity, loving smile, and the waves of energy which overwhelmed her, but also because she recognized Him, she had seen His face before -- superimposed on my face and radiating brilliant light during his overshadowing of myself while giving the message at a lecture in January 1982. (This is an often seen phenomenon at these lectures). Her impulse was to run after Him when he moved away from the window but she was too moved by the event to think clearly -- and no doubt He would not wish to be followed.

(2) MAITREYA OVER MIAMI. An organization called "Mission of Maitreya" has the following "URGENT" message: "A task force of New Age leaders has been formed to come up with ideas for a better world. It is called the World Unity Forum. This group was born at Colorado Springs on May 21, 1984. It grew in strength at Black Mountain, North Carolina on January 4-7, 1985. At Miami on May 31st through June 4, 1985, it will come of age. This forum is the best vehicle for providing the Mission's plan with a front. As a supporter of the Mission Work, you can further the plan by making it possible for Maitreya to represent us at the May meeting in Miami. Your donation for travel expenses will assure us of HIS presence there!!!"

(3) MAITREYA: MIB MESSIAH. In the early issues of CT we presented much info and speculation on the Men In Black -- the sinister beings who terrify UFO witnesses. We mentioned their facial characteristics as being the following: (a) Oriental Eyes. (b) Dark skin. (c) Angular faces. We established that the MIB were emissaries of Shambhala (and Sirius) -- the Great White Lodge. In CT #4, we speculated that Maitreya was an MIB since Benjamin Creme connected him with Shambhala. We further came to the conclusion that the MIB were inter-dimensional travelers -- a position acquired through mastery of Black Magic. The March 1985 issue of Share International-al presented a letter by a follower of Benjamin Creme. The disciple had an encounter with Maitreya. We have used bold type to emphasize Maitreya's features as reported by this man. He writes: I work in a health food restaurant in the Westminster area, and happened to be returning, early summer 1984, from an errand along Horseferry Road near to the corner on which stands Westminster Hospital. As I meandered on my way thinking vaguely about Sai Baba, I looked up from the pavement and straight into the eyes of an ASIAN MAN of about 30-ish. At the second his gaze met mine he broke into a deep smile of brotherhood which I felt go right 'within' me, and I was unable to stop myself from returning His. Until sometime afterwards, it didn't strike me as being odd to smile with love, for this is how he made me feel, at another man in the middle of the street! During this strange experience I was completely puzzled, as though 'not allowed' to be able to think straight, and as he passed by me along the pavement I stood scratching my head at it all. I looked back over my shoulder, and as I did, so did he -- and then once again; then I hurried on my way back to work still bemused. Later, it suddenly occurred to me that it could have been Lord Maitreya, though I couldn't possibly think why He should appear before me in Westminster! But then I remembered He had said in the "Messages from Maitreya" that he had walked the "pavements of your cities". All this only springs back to mind again after seeing the Sunday Times article of 2 December '84 about Patricia Pitchon seeing him in Bricklane. The drawing of Maitreya done by her friend suddenly reminded me of my experience. I realized the face in the drawing bore a remarkable resemblance to the man I met. Though not an exact likeness, it's caricature quality has the definite traits and features of the man I met. He was fairly tall, though slight in build, wearing western clothes, which I remember thinking sat rather uncomfortably on him, as though he was wearing them for a specific reason that day, possibly to visit the Hospital nearby. He was young-looking, 'TANNED' in appearance with brownish eyes and good-looks in the sense of a very well proportioned yet ANGULAR FACE, and he had dark hair, being also clean-shaven, as in Ms. Pitchon's drawing. I also can now see a slight similarity to the 'true likeness' of Babaji in the Autobiography of a Yogi by Yogananda. Even so, it was to me a remarkable face, and the look he gave me even more so!! (EDITOR: See CT 1-6 for more on MIB)

(4) FATAL VISION. After the success of the TV movie "Fatal Vision", we wrote E. Edwin Austin of the Mutilation Data Center and asked him what really happened. Mr. Austin reported: Dr. Jeffrey MacDonald's family were brutally murdered in their quarters inside Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Dr. MacDonald was repeatedly stabbed. From the very first, this case was marred by missing evidence, official misconduct, a ten year delay in charging and trial and other problems that even left the Federal Courts split on whether he should be tried and, if so, whether he was innocent or guilty. As things stand, Dr. MacDonald has been ruled to have stabbed himself and is serving three consecutive life sentences for murdering his wife and two daughters. The whole society is split into several warring factions, over issues ranging from cultism to legal issues to actual guilt vs. innocence. The reason I fall into the "He was railroaded" category are unique to me and maybe worth CT reader attention. One of Dr. MacDonald's champions is a private detective named Ted Gunderson. Mr. Gunderson gave me a list of the cultists, which he developed from Dr. MacDonald's information. One of the cultists uses a unique MO for animal mutilations. I put out a nationwide "MO search" and got a "hit" in Ohio. I sent in my Columbus contact to search DMV records for our man, in both real name and alias. We got a "hit" on the alias, dead center in the reporting area. We found him living with a notorious local-level rightist kook. When I called the newspaper, I walked head-on into a near-identical MacDonald dispute, with ramifications.... Young woman, murdered almost identical to the MacDonald women. Shortly after...pickup bombed...driver killed. Cops found all kinds of literature which they promptly put under lock and seal, plus all kinds of guns and explosives, including one Russian-made machine gun in the victim's home...Man's wife charged with ATF violations.... Shortly after, deputy sheriff's wife killed in identical fashion...Two more women killed same way...Young man starts telling friends he's about to be murdered to use as scapegoat for these killings and that his death will be called "suicide ---don't you believe it!" Sure enough, few days later he is found dead, officially a suicide. But his family brought in their own pathologist, who testified that there was no possible way any human being could hold a gun in a position to produce the bullet path found. It all ends there. (Group of newspaper clips from Mansfield newspaper and personal phone and mail contact with one of their best reporters.) There is another murder, identical in nature, in an area where the same animal mutilation MO appears near Fort Bragg. Same ramifications. Mr. Gunderson, Dr. MacDonald and most of my network are convinced that Dr. MacDonald was attacked because of his strong anti-drug views and stumbled on a group of highly placed military intelligence officers who were personally involved in drug traffic.

(5) TRIPLE THREAT. Mr. Austin also said: Because of the above, and new information here is further information and a prediction. There was a minor wave of UFO reports, animal mutilations and a sudden spate of missing children, during the fall of 1984, throughout the Mississippi-Missouri Basin. I predict that this will build into a massive wave of all three over the next 5 years and that they will eventually be proven to be these things:

(a) The UFOs will turn out to be military surplus combat helicopters, purchased by drug smugglers and used for that purpose. The mysterious red lights are infra-red landing lights. The pilots are equipped with sophisticated night-vision equipment that enables them to see persons by their body heat. The lights are the UFOs.

(b) The animal mutilations are the work of dopers who get stoned at a party. You will find that over 95% of all victims-owners of mutilated animals, whether urban or rural, were involved in a controversy with a local doper just before the mute. Not necessarily a dope-related fight, just a fight. (c) The missing children are used as transporters or dealers. In divorce snatches, the absconding parent is used the same way.

There is an element inside the FBI, CIA, NSA, all military intelligence agencies and most police departments who want to use dope to destabilize dissident elements of the civilian population --especially Communists and Satanists. They are more than willing to use their positions to violate drug laws, believing they are doing their patriotic duty. These are the people who spout "little green men from Mars," "mass hallucination" and similar propaganda about UFOs. Their aim is to make any police officer who uses UFO information to locate and bust a drug trafficker look ridiculous for taking the UFO seriously. They are the same people who scream "predators, disease, cultists" and other diversionary stuff about animal mutilations. The aim is to divert attention from the drug source -- and make any cop who actually uses the information look ridiculous. Readers ought to keep in mind that cops who use info on UFOs, animal mutilations and missing children properly are making good, solid drug busts left and right -- at a cost in man-hours and money about half that of normal methods. The results prove the theory. We are hurting them bad. They will retaliate by trying to use CI and it's readers to make these cops look stupid. But they do not work directly. Rather, they use dupes like J. Allen Hynek -- one of the most competent astronomers in the world, with all kinds of solid work to his credit, but, like Einstein, a complete idiot outside his own field. An unknowing disinformation agent. And there are many others in political and conspiracy buff groups. Read Jacques Vallee's book "Messengers of Deception" especially the sections dealing with "Major Murphy." Vallee and Murphy were very, very close to the central truth. Keep it in mind when you see this "little green men from Mars" propaganda. Think of it as a propaganda conspiracy, hatched and run by corrupt officials involved in drug traffic that is both illegal and in direct contravention to their superiors orders. There aren't many -- but, boy, do they hurt when they speak.

(6) TROUBLE IN TURKEY. (From "Private Eye" London, December 14, 1984.) Here in smog-bound and dreary Ankara we live in perpetual paranoia fuelled by a sensationalist press pandering to the military's siege mentality and flag waving. The political permafrost setting on our capital -- and the rest of Turkey -- since the coup in autumn 1980, has generated its own underworld of cliques and factions vying for the spoils of office. President Evren (formerly General Evren and chief martial law administrator before donning civilian clothes in a one-candidate presidential poll) is said to be bemused at watching a three-cornered civilian faction fight to the finish. The main contenders are, first, the rump of the now banned "Grey Wolf" fanatics, Turkey's equivalent of the Moseleyites who control key positions in Prime Minister Ozal's Motherland Party

(MP). Second, the Muslim Brotherhood led by PM Ozal's very own bearded brother who also represents Saudi and Gulf banking interests in Turkey. Third, and fast-growing among our IMF-spawned new rich, are the Freemasons. Little wonder therefore that Brenda's cousin and Britain's top Mason, the Duke of Kent, was dispatched to Turkey in October to land two major projects which have whetted City appetites. A full third of HRH's delegation were what some of the more uncharitable souls here choose to call 'olum tucarri' -- merchants of death, to you and I -- enticing wide-eyed Turkish generals with lethal toys like Rapier missiles and Tornado fighter-jets. It is said that our country has already made a large cash down-payment for the ultra-modern Tornados which can launch airborne cruise missiles, but rumour also has it that a storm is brewing in Washington because the "down-payment" didn't come out of Turkish pockets but allegedly from US

Congress allocations for NATO. Ironically our Turkish Freemasonry suffered its first major defeat after the Duke's visit. A small incident in Turkey's Kapikule Customs (the main crossing point to Europe) escalated into a major political scandal involving drug smuggling, torture, corruption and blood-letting in Ozal's battered cabinet. Unusual even by Turkish standards, Evren personally moved to sack Finance Minister Arikan who had publicly accused his colleague the Minister of the Interior and Ozal's brother-in-law, Tanriyar, of "torturing" customs officials. (In Evren'speak "torture" or "maltreatment" is what infidels do to patriotic Turks -- not the other way around. Arikan is one of our leading Freemasons. But there is more to this tale of everyday life in Ankara: it transpired that the corrupt customs officials also included a group of right-wing extremists charged with aiding and abetting the notorious "Grey Wolf" Mehmet Ali Agca, the Pope's assailant, to escape from death row in 1979. The Rome prosecutor Signore Martinelli recently named another paramilitary fascist Oral Chelik, as the second gunman during the Vatican assassination attempt, whose shot shattered the Pontiff's finger. It is alleged that Kapikule officials provided him with a false passport. Sought by Interpol, Oral Chelik is said to have taken refuge in North London's "Grey Wolf" lairs around Green Lanes. Both are linked in a chain of arms and drug smuggling reaching to Gelli of P2 Italian Masonic fame. Meanwhile, our city's ever-growing army of beggars could take a hint or two from Madame Gumrukcuoglu, the wife of our Ambassador to London. Departing guests from her husband's famed late-night "private receptions" are reminded that their liquid pleasures have depended on massive unpaid overtime by embassy servants, and are canvassed for a tip. Seeking a tenner from the likes of our very good British friend Sir Frederick Bennet MP, is, of course, a difficult and distressing business, and our Ambassadors therefore deducts 50% commission from all gratuities received.

(7) SANTERIA CULT. (From the Syracuse Herald American, January 27, 1985.) FORT MEYERS, FLA. (AP) - Police on a drug raid stumbled upon a cult shrine bedecked with human skulls and animal remains. The shrine and its contents -- evidence of the practice of Santeria, a religion blending African customs with Christianity -- did not violate any Florida laws, said Police Capt. Durrell Phillips. Authorities made the discovery Friday after seizing a 50-foot fishing vessel containing about 5,000 pounds of marijuana as it was anchored in the Caloosahatchee River. Nine men were arrested.

(8) THE JESUITS. (From Last Trumpet Newsletter, January 1985) The conspirators keep a tight control on the Vatican and the Pope by means of a society of secret agents known as "The Order Of Jesuits" or "Society Of Jesus". It is an easily documented fact that the founder of the 1776 Illuminati was Dr. Adam Weishaupt, who was both the son of a Rabbi and a Jesuit Professor of Canon Law. This was the man that the Rothschilds picked and financed to blueprint the Great Conspiracy. The Jesuits have a leader who is called the "General of the Order", but he is also known as "The Black Pope". The Jesuit order links together the Synagogue of Satan (so named by Jesus Christ), and the Vatican. The Rothschilds are the real masters of Rome. A small incident that is worth mentioning is one that took place not too many years ago. (EDITOR: I believe the event he is talking about took place in 1840.) Phillip Rothschild was visiting the Vatican and was sitting at a table with the Pope and a number of Cardinals and other Vatican officials. The Pope proposed a toast to "Rome, the Holy City". As he and the others...were about to drink, Rothschild said: "Jerusalem is the Holy City!" The Pope just sat down and shut his mouth. (9) FEDERAL RESERVE. (From the Christian Patriot Crusader, December 1984.) Have you ever wondered why the Federal Reserve Bank founded in 1913 has remained under such a cloud of secrecy? The Federal Reserve Act of 1913 provided that the member banks be kept a secret. Many Americans wonder why the President cannot order the Federal Reserve to lower interest rates and help the nation when it is in a depression. The answer, of course, as most of you know, is that the Federal Reserve Bank has absolutely nothing to do with the Federal Government. It is strictly a private owned bank, owned by stockholder banks. But the chances are you have never heard who these stockholder banks are. Recently this information was received from a reliable source in Switzerland and Saudi Arabia, as to which banks in America hold controlling interest in the FED. Here they are:

- 1-The Rothschild banks of London and Berlin
- 2-Lazares Brother Bank of Paris.
- 3-Israel Moses Seif Bank of Italy.
- 4-Warburg Bank of Hamburg.
- 5-Lehman Brothers Bank of New York.
- 6-Goldman, Sachs Bank of New York.
- 7-Kuhn, Loeb Bank of New York.
- 8-Rockefeller Chase Manhattan Bank of N.Y.

If this list is genuine, and we have no reason to doubt it, it means that the Federal Reserve Bank, which controls America's economy and maintains a life and death stranglehold over the financial life of America is 100% Jewish owned and controlled. (It should be noted that the Rockefellers are Sephardic Jews who originally migrated from Spain to France, before coming to the U.S.. All the others are Khazars.) (10) ADD IT UP. (Clippings from: St. Paul Pioneer Press, 9/1/69.) Mr. Bill Lowery, of Sacramento, California, who has researched the law of this nation for more years than he cares to remember, states the following: One thing all attorneys know, but are not telling, is that the American Bar Association, American Medical Association and the Federal Reserve were organized and financed with foreign money -- the House of Rothschild and Lloyds of London, and the Jesuits! (EDITOR: Now add up the info presented in notes 8, 9 and 10)

(11) IS ATOMIC WAR POSSIBLE? In his book "The Bridge To Infinity", Bruce Cathie writes: "I have demonstrated the geometric nature of the Atom Bomb and the method of detonation in relation to the harmonic structure of physical mass. I had discovered during my research that an Atom Bomb was an intricate geometric device which could only be detonated by placing it below, on, or above, a calculated geometric position in relation to the Earth's surface. The geometric trigger that caused the disruption of matter within the bomb was the spatial relationship between the Earth and the Sun at a given instant of time. This knowledge made it obvious to me that an all-out atomic war would be impossible as each bomb would have to be detonated at a certain place at a certain time which could be precalculated years in advance by any proposed enemy. The whole process would be completely illogical.... As could be expected, once it became known that I had discovered the geometric nature of the bomb, I was contacted by personnel from various agencies and scientific establishments from around the world who tried their best to persuade me to keep quiet about it. I refused, as I believe the public has a right to know the truth about the geometric processes involved." (12) REMEMBER THE ALAMO. (From The Thunderbolt, Issue #302.) Major cities across the nation have been hit with a large anti Catholic posters plastered on vacant store fronts, walls, fences, etc. Followers of Tony Alamo are traveling full time across America pasting up these posters proclaiming, "The Vatican owns CBS, NBC, ABC, The New York Times, The Washington Post," etc. The Thunderbolt staff has been investigating this phenomenon to try and determine just what and who is behind this campaign. Not only are these charges totally false, but they take the heat off the race of people who really do own the above propaganda mills. Jew William Paley has controlling stock ownership in CBS, the Sarnoff family has controlling stock ownership of RCA which in turn owns NBC. Long time head of ABC is still the Jew Julian Goodman. The New York Times is owned by the Sulzberger family, and the Washington Post by the Jew Meyer family. The December issue of the Anti-Defamation League Bulletin reveals that the man behind all this false propaganda, designed to discredit opposition to organized Jewry, is Tony Alamo - HIMSELF A JEW! Alamo claims to be a convert to Christianity, but says he is still a Jew! His Alamo Foundation owns some 29 businesses worth up to $60 million....Interestingly enough, both Tony and Susan Alamo were born Jewish he Bernie Lazar Hoffman and she Edith Opal Horn. (13) MORMONISM AND THE OCCULT. (From The Utah Evangel, date unknown.) Every day thousands of Mormons "bear their testimony that they believe that Joseph Smith was a prophet of God and that he restored the only true church here on earth." If this is true, then Joseph Smith and all of the succeeding General Authorities of Mormonism should be in exact accord with God's Holy Word, the Bible. In the Bible, we find that God views the occult as "abominable practices" in Deut. 18:9-14. God also in Leviticus 19:31 forbids anyone to turn to "mediums or wizards." By showing a direct link between the occult and Mormonism this should leave no doubt that Mormonism is not from God. On March 20, 1826, in Branbridge, Chenango County, New York, Joseph Smith was tried and found guilty of practicing as a "Glass Looker." A "glass looker" is someone who dealt with familiar spirits and seer stones to find hidden treasures. This practice was also connected with money digging. The Church admits that he dealt in this practice in the History of the Church, Vol.III, pg.29, where we find: "Was not Joseph Smith a money digger?" "Yes, but it was never a very profitable job for him, as he only got fourteen dollars a month for it." Joseph also claimed to have medium powers through which he could see wondrous sights such as "ghosts, infernal spirits, mountains of gold and silver" (Tiffany's Monthly, 1859, pp 163-170). The paradox of it all is that the same convicted glass looker, money digger, medium and seer authored the Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, and The Pearl of Great Price and claims these are books from God. Other evidences of the occult in Mormonism can be found in a Mormon published book "Temple Manifestations" In this book, numerous accounts of "angels of light", dead relatives appearing at the baptismal fount, and other hair-raising accounts can be found. On the 17th of April, 1883, at the Salt Lake Temple, the following occultic manifestations occurred-ed: "A bright light appeared above...until I could see the face of a personage in the midst of it. It was the countenance of Pres. Brigham Young...clothed in robes. Then I beheld the person of Pres. John Taylor. Hyrum Smith, Orson Pratt, and several others also appeared during the dedication services. While Pres. George Q. Cannon was making the concluding remarks.. I saw a brilliant light over the head of each member of the First Presidency. Which ever way any of the speakers turned while addressing the people, the light followed every movement made by them." (Millennial Star, Vol. 58, No. 13, March 30, 1896, pp 205-206) ...Today some Mormons will admit that there were a few small problems when "the true church" was founded, but they have all been worked out and the LDS Church is now on the perfect path. Keeping this in mind, I would like to share with you one final and shocking fact. In a book used by the members of the Church of Wicca (Witchcraft), there is some very interesting reading on P. 112. The following is found under the heading of "WITH MAGIC WITCHCRAFT POWER YOU CAN STILL BE A PAGAN AND WIN"... "WE witches encourage our people to have one year's food supply and sufficient money so that they can be independent for at least one year...If it seems that you will never get to that secure platform, join a protective type church such as Latter Day Saints would help: no Mormon ever starves." (The Magic Power of Witchcraft by Gavin and Yvonne Frost, May 1982) Even the members of witchcraft feel that you will still be a pagan after joining the Mormon Church.

(14) TIBETAN MONKS. In their book "The Dark Gods" , Anthony Roberts and Geoff Gilbertson write: "From all over the world there have come reports of underground caverns , tunnel systems, or even underground cities...It is recorded that the Nazis believed in the underground city in the Himalayas. Legends concerning Agharti and its King of the World were... rife in Tibet, and apparently the Nazis sent envoys to this part of the world to get the subterranean dwellers on their side! The result was said to have been an order of black monks arriving in Germany. The Russians are known to have found the corpses of several hundred uniformed Tibetans in Berlin -- carrying no papers. ...At the present time, it has been revealed (in the Enquirer) that certain Tibetan monks are aiding Russia in its 'black' use of magic. Have they always tended to be around somewhere or other, shaping the patterns of history?"
